Toby Gerhart

#7

Position: RB Height: 6-1 Weight: 226
 Year: Sophomore
 Hometown: Norco, California
 High School: Norco HS
 Pronunciation: Gare-heart

At Stanford: Toby came to Stanford as one of the nation's top two-sport athletes in football and baseball and after his freshman season, it's easy to see why ... He had an immediate impact on both the Cardinal football and baseball teams as a true freshman a year ago ... In football, he was the team's second leading rusher, played in all 12 games and was an integral part of the Cardinal offense ... In baseball, he also earned a spot in the starting lineup as a left fielder and was one of the team's top threats ... He finished the year hitting .289 with two home runs and 12 RBI ... Great prospect in both football and baseball ... Will once again play a key role for the Cardinal in 2007 as he will be one of Stanford's top offensive players ... A very tough, aggressive, hard-nosed football player.

The 2006 Season: Stanford's second-leading rusher as a true freshman in 2006 with 375 yards on 106 rushes for a 3.5 yards per carry average ... Had 261 yards on 62 rushes over his first six games before slowing to 113 on 44 carries in his final six contests ... Stanford's leading rusher on four occasions in 2006 at Oregon (16-55), at San Jose State (13-82), versus Navy (9-40) and at UCLA (12-32) ... Had Stanford's second-longest run of 2006 when he broke free for a 38-yarder at San Jose State ... Also accounted for 15 catches for 124 yards ... Had a season-high four receptions for 31 yards versus Navy ... Played in all 12 games with one start (at UCLA) ... Several games midway through the season when he battled injuries and was limited ... Earned his first varsity letter.

In Baseball: Had a promising rookie campaign on the diamond as an outfielder, hitting .289 (33-114) with a pair of homers, 12 RBI and three stolen bases ... Added 23 runs scored, four doubles, 43 total bases, four walks, seven hit by pitches (tied for second on the team) and a sacrifice bunt ... Fielded all 36 of his defensive chances successfully for a perfect 1.000 fielding percentage ... Limited to 30 games and 23 starts primarily due to a broken right forearm suffered when he was hit by a pitch in a game at Texas on February 17 ... Was out of action for about seven and a half weeks before returning to the field on April 10 ... Had a career-high eight-game hit streak from April 21 - May 5 shortly after his return to action ... Finished the season on a tear, going 10-for-21 (.476) over his final six games with four multiple-hit contests during the run ... Also had a pair of career-high-tying three-hit contests over his last six games versus Pacific and in the season finale at USC (5/27/07) ... Hit .286 with a homer, five RBI and one stolen base in 16 Pac-10 games (11 starts) ... Had his first collegiate home run and a career-high three RBI versus Fresno State (February 10).

In High School: One of the top two-sport stars in California as a senior as he was regarded as one of the state's best football and baseball prospects ... He broke the California High School career rushing record by more than 1000 yards while earning the reputation as one of the premier running backs in the nation ... Rushed for an amazing 9622 yards in his career, best all-time in California and the third best in the nation ... As a senior, he rushed for 3233 yards and scored 39 touchdowns while leading his team to the Division V Southern Section title ... He was named a prep All-American by PrepStar, SuperPrep, EA Sports and Parade Magazine while also being chosen the Gatorade California Player of the Year ... Cal-Hi Sports named him Mr. Football for 2005 and the state's Player of the Year ... SuperPrep.com ranked him the No. 26 running back in the country and the No. 27 recruit from California while Rivals.com rated him the No. 7 fullback in the country ... Other honors as a senior included First Team All-State and All-CIF, CIF Southern Section Player of the Year, CIF Division V Player of the Year, Los Angeles Times Player of the Year and the Conference Player and Athlete of the Year ... In baseball, he hit .549 as a junior while being named All-State, All-CIF, All-League and All-County ... Baseball America named him among the Top 50 high school prospects in the nation for the 2006 season ... Also played three years of basketball.

Personal Information: Born March 28, 1987 ... Undeclared major ... Member of the California Scholastic Federation.

Jay Ottovegio

#27

Position: P Height: 6-0 Weight: 196
 Year: Senior
 Hometown: Coral Springs, Florida
 High School: St. Thomas Aquinas HS
 Pronunciation: Ott-uh-veg-ee-oh

At Stanford: The only player on Stanford's roster to begin the 2007 campaign as a fourth-year starter ... Expected to be one of the top punters in the Pac-10 in his final collegiate campaign ... Has averaged 40.6 yards per punt in 194 attempts for 7868 career punting yards ... Has a legitimate chance to break Stanford's all-time record for punting yards as he enters the 2007 season just 2105 short of the 9973 compiled by all-time leader Kevin Miller from 1995-98 and just 2132 shy of becoming the first Stanford player to ever punt for 10,000 career yards ... Has landed 59 career punts inside the opponents' 20-yard line and had 20 go for 50 or more yards, proving to be a consistent and reliable punter that also has a strong leg ... Has had just two career punts blocked (both in 2006) ... Has averaged 40.0 or more yards in 23 of his 34 career contests.

The 2006 Season: Averaged a career-low 39.6 yards per punt on 61 attempts for 2417 yards with two punts blocked (Washington State, at Washington) after not having one blocked in his first two collegiate campaigns ... Was able to trap opponents inside their own 20-yard line 17 times, including on eight occasions in the final four games which contributed to his lower per punt average as he was unable to average 40.0 or more yards per punt in any of those last four contests ... Ran for 11 yards and a first down on a fake punt versus Oregon State ... Punted a season-high eight times against USC ... Had his best game of the season versus Arizona when he punted seven times for a season-best 45.3 yard average ... Had a pair of season-best-tying 52-yard punts at UCLA and at Arizona State ... Earned 2006 Pre-Season First Team (Steele's), Second Team (The Sporting News) and Third Team (Athlon) All-Pac-10 honors.

The 2005 Season: Posted his second solid season as the team's starting punter, averaging 40.6 yards on 67 punts for 2723 yards ... Landed 22 of his punts inside the opponents' 20-yard line and had seven go for 50 or more yards ... Had four of his season-high-tying eight punts go 50 or more yards when he averaged a season-best 45.1 yards per punt at Arizona that helped the Cardinal maintain field position in a hard-fought 20-16 victory ... Averaged more than 40 yards per punt in eight of Stanford's 11 games ... Had a pair of season-high-tying 56-yard punts at Arizona and versus Arizona State.

The 2004 Season: Became the first freshman punter in school history to average more than 40 yards per punt with a 41.3 average on 66 punts for 2728 yards ... Had the longest punt of his career to date with a 59-yarder versus Washington ... Had 20 punts land inside the opponents' 20-yard line and nine that went for more than 50 yards ... The Sporting News named him a Second Team Freshman All-American ... Averaged more than 40 yards per punt in nine of Stanford's 11 games ... Averaged a career-best 46.2 yards per kick on five punts at Notre Dame, including one of 58 yards and one that landed inside the 20 ... Winner of the Menlo-Atherton Trophy as the team's Most Outstanding (redshirt) Freshman player.

The 2003 Season: Did not play in 2003 as a true freshman punter.

In High School: One of the premier kickers in the nation from St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Florida ... A prep All-American who was ranked as the No. 2 placekicker in the country by Rivals.com and TheInsiders.com ... Named All-Southeast Region by PrepStar and SuperPrep ... One of Max Emfinger's Top Five punters in the country ... Connected on 10-of-15 field goal attempts and 42-of-44 PATs with a season-long FG of 47 yards as a senior ... Put 70 of his 79 kickoffs into or out of the end zone ... Averaged 42 yards per punt with 12 inside the 20 ... Was selected by the Orlando Sentinel as one of the Top 24 players in the state of Florida and by Rivals.com as one of the Top 100 players in Florida ... First Team All-State placekicker twice ... Broward County Super 11 and First Team All-County selection ... Hit 7-of-10 field goals with a long of 48 while averaging 40.0 yards per punt as a junior ... An All-State punter as a sophomore after averaging 40.0 yards per punt ... Also played soccer and baseball.

Personal Information: Born October 9, 1984 ... A co-term student working on his Masters and Bachelors degrees in Communication ... Also has minors in History and Psychology ... Member of the National Honor Society.

 Year: Sophomore
 Hometown: League City, Texas
 High School: Clear Creek HS

At Stanford: Austin turned in an impressive season last year as he played in 11 games and started six at wide receiver during his true freshman season ... He was moved to free safety, however, during the 2007 spring and was equally impressive as he shot to the top of the depth chart ... Showed great instincts and skills in moving over to the defense ... He will be in the hunt to earn a starting position in 2007 and will play a key role in the Cardinal's secondary and on special teams.

The 2006 Season: Fifth on the team with 16 receptions for 168 yards ... Started six games, including five in a row from October 7 – November 11 ... Had career-bests of four catches and 65 receiving yards as well as the longest catch of his career (25 yards) versus Navy ... He was in the starting lineup versus Washington State, at Notre Dame, versus Arizona, at Arizona State, versus USC and at Washington.

In High School: Talented three-sport athlete from League City, Texas, where he starred in football, basketball, and track and field at Clear Creek High School ... Caught 35 passes for over 400 yards and three touchdowns while earning First Team All-District honors as a senior ... All-District selection in basketball as a junior ... Competed in the high jump, long jump and 400m in track and field ... Named his high school's Track and Field Athlete of the Year as a junior ... Off the field, Austin was involved in the Peer Assistance and Leadership (PAL) program, was the American Legion Boys State representative for his high school, was a member of the Spanish National Honor Society, the National Honor Society, Who's Who Among American High School Students and was selected to represent his high school at Boys State in Austin, Texas, as a senior.

Personal Information: Born March 6, 1988 ... Undeclared major.

The Buck/Cardinal Club

In June of 1934, four dedicated Stanford men met to discuss the growing concerns facing Stanford's student-athletes. They were the founding members of the "Tiny Buck of the Month Club." Members of the club were required to donate one dollar a month to support scholarships for student-athletes. The word "Tiny" reminded everyone of the small monthly contribution and honored the head football coach "Tiny" Thornhill. The Club's name was eventually shortened to the "Stanford Buck Club" and the membership dues were revised.

Until the mid-1970's, there were no athletic scholarships for women, nor was there any fundraising organization devoted to this purpose. To accomplish the task of raising scholarship funds for women, the Cardinal Club was formed in 1977-78.

Under the guidance of the Buck and Cardinal Club leadership, a merged Buck/Cardinal Club was formed in 1987 to raise funds for both men's and women's athletic scholarships.

More than 70 years since its inception, the Buck/Cardinal Club not only continues its great scholarship tradition, but provides all 35 varsity sports and approximately 800 student-athletes with the resources needed to compete at the highest level of NCAA Division I Athletics.

The Stanford Axe is presented to the winner of the annual Big Game between Stanford and California. The rivalry is known for upsets and wild finishes, such as “The Play” (above right), which is regarded as one of the most unbelievable events in collegiate football history.

The Big Game

What Stanford and Cal began on March 10, 1892, in San Francisco is now one of the greatest rivalries in college football. The Big Game – Stanford’s annual war on the gridiron with the University of California – has now entered its third century. The teams will meet for the 110th time on December 1, 2007, at Stanford.

The first Big Game was held before an overflow crowd of 20000. Stanford manager Herbert Hoover, later to become the 31st President of the United States, printed 10000 tickets for the 15000-seat Haight Street baseball grounds in San Francisco. However, as the crowd filled the stadium, Hoover ran out of tickets and was forced to collect coins at the gate and put them in empty wash tubs and boxes. When the team captains were on the field and the referee asked for the ball, there was one small problem. No one remembered to bring the ball. After the game, Hoover and the Cal manager counted $30000 in receipts – enough to finance the team for the next season. The Big Game was born.

Stanford leads the all-time series 54-44-11, and has won seven of the last 12 and 11 of the last 18 despite Cal’s five consecutive victories. But, it has been a series that has been very close with just 35 points (1735-1700) separating the two teams. The Big Game is tied for the 10th longest rivalry in college football history.

The Big Game has been a series where “anything can happen, and usually does.” Five Big Games have been decided on the final play, including the first overtime contest in 2000.

The 1982 game will forever be known as one of the classic contests in college football history, thanks to “The Play”. Stanford had taken a 20-19 lead on a 34-yard field goal by Mark Harmon with just four seconds to play. On the ensuing kickoff, Cal scored a touchdown on an incredible five-lateral, 57-yard return that ended when the Bears’ Kevin Moen bowled over Gary Tyrell, a trombonist in the Stanford band, and went into the end zone for a controversial game-winning touchdown.

In 1924, Stanford rallied from a 20-6 deficit to tie Cal’s Wonder Team, 20-20. In the 50th Big Game in 1947, winless Stanford (0-8) led the 8-1 Bears, 18-14, before Cal scored on an 80-yard touchdown pass with less than three minutes remaining in the game.

The 1959 classic featured the Bears holding on to win 20-17 despite an NCAA-record performance by Stanford quarterback Dick Norman, who threw for 401 yards on 34-of-39 passing. Vince Ferragamo’s eight-yard TD pass to Steve Sweeney on the game’s final play gave Cal a 24-21 Big Game win in 1972. Two years later, Stanford won 22-20 when Mike Langford connected on a 50-yard field goal on the game’s final play.

In 1976, Cal’s Markey Crane fumbled the ball on his own two-yard line with 1:31 left in the game and his team on top, 24-19. Stanford’s Ron Inge scored the game-winning TD moments later to give the Cardinal a 27-24 win. Tuan Van Le blocked a 20-yard field goal in the 1988 Big Game to preserve a 19-19 tie.

Stanford’s answer to The Play occurred in 1990 when the Cardinal scored nine points in the final 12 seconds to pull out an improbable 27-25 victory. QB Jason Palumbis connected with WR Ed McCaffrey on a 19-yard TD with 12 seconds on the clock, lifting the Cardinal to within a point of Cal at 25-24. A two-point conversion, however, failed and the Bears celebrated a certain victory. But, Stanford recovered the ensuing onside kick and Cal was penalized 15 yards on the first play, setting the Cardinal up at the Bears’ 22-yard line. Stanford PK John Hopkins came on to hit a 37-yard field goal as time ran out and Stanford began celebrating its 27-25 win.

In 1999, Stanford clinched its first Rose Bowl trip in 28 years with a resounding 31-13 victory before more than 80000 fans at Stanford Stadium. In 2000, the teams made history by playing the first-ever overtime game in the series. The Cardinal won the contest in the first overtime on a 25-yard pass from Randy Fasani to Casey Moore for a 36-30 final score and third straight victory in Berkeley.

To the winner of The Big Game goes the Stanford Axe, which first made its appearance at a Stanford-Cal baseball game on April 13, 1899. The Axe was used by Stanford students at the baseball game to decapitate a straw man dressed in blue and gold. Cal students grabbed the Axe during a post-game brawl. To better conceal the Axe, the handle was cut off and the remaining blade was safely brought back to Berkeley. Two law professors from each school ruled that the Axe was a prize by reason of conquest and, therefore, would remain in Berkeley.

The Immortal Twenty-One, a group of Stanford students, added to Big Game lore by stealing the Axe at Cal’s annual Axe Rally on April 3, 1930. The Axe, which had been in a bank vault for 31 years, was now in possession of the Immortal Twenty-One. When the famous group of students returned to campus, the celebration began. Classes were canceled for two days and the University presented each member of the Immortal Twenty-One with a block “S” letter.

After three years of negotiating, the presidents of both student bodies agreed that the Axe would be a trophy given to the winner of The Big Game.
