

1967 NCAA Championship Team

When Tom Haynie resigned at the end of the 1960 season to take a teaching and coaching position in Honolulu, Al Masters immediately made another of his wise decisions, appointing Jim Gaughran, who had been a swimming and water polo star under Haynie for three years in 1952-54.

Late in the evening of Saturday, March 25, 1967, a dream, a plan and many hours of hard work over a period of more than a quarter of a century culminated in an NCAA Swimming Championship for Stanford at the pool of Michigan State University in East Lansing. The Indians of Jim Gaughran had just scored 275 points to beat out USC with 260 and end years of frustration, gaining sweet revenge on the Trojans for two events which had occurred earlier in the season.

On February 18, in Encina Pools, Southern California had come from behind in the final event of the afternoon, the 400 yard free relay, to tie Stanford 52-52, in one of the greatest dual meets ever held; on March 4, in Eugene, Oregon, those same pesky Trojans had edged Stanford 265 to 213 for the AAWU championship. But this time, Gaughran's staunch men were not to be denied.

Practically every man on the squad came through in fine style, but leaders in the point scoring were the great Greg Buckingham, Dick Roth and Mike Wall. Buck won the 200 and 500 freestyle races, placed second in the 1650 yard event and swam anchor lap on the winning 800 free relay. His marks of 1:41.46 and 4:37.16 in the 200 and 500, respectively, were both NCAA and American records. Buck had to come from behind in the last lap of the 800 relay and the result was another NCAA and American record of 6:54.65. Buckingham, who teamed with Roth, Pete Siebert and Mike Wall, swam his lap in 1:40.80. Roth nearly duplicated Buck's brilliant performance with first places in the 200 and 400 individual medley, a sixth in the 200 yard backstroke and a lap on the winning 800 free relay.

Wall was another busy young man who, in addition to swimming a lap on the record breaking 800 free relay, placed third in the 1650 free, fifth in the 200 free and sixth in the 500 free. Buckingham, Roth and Wall each swam seven or eight races during the three days of the meet. Pete Siebert was another important contributor with a third and fifth in the 200 and 400 individual medleys, respectively, and a lap on the 800 free relay.

Captain Jim Laney and Luis Nicolao, the Argentine pixie, weren't exactly loafing either. Jim anchored both the 400 freestyle and 400 medley relays, the former to another double record-breaking victory in 3:05.00, and the latter to a solid fourth place. In the 400, Laney held off Don Schollander and Don Havens, both national champions and two of the greatest swimmers in world. The skipper also finished ninth in the 100 freestyle and thirteenth in the 100 butterfly. Nicolao teamed with Laney, Bill Meyer and Morgan Manning in the 400 free relay, placed second in the 100 butterfly, sixth in the 200 butterfly and swam a lap on the 400 medley relay which finished fourth. Meyer, who also placed seventh in the 100 freestyle, turned in the fastest lap of the 400 free relay—a fantastic 45.8. Teaming with Nicolao and Laney in the 400 medley relay were Bob Momsen and Bill Kee. Momsen also placed second

The large and appreciative crowd gave the Indians a big hand on winning the meet and then was completely flabbergasted by a bit of apparent legerdemain which took place within seconds after the final results showed Stanford to be the winner. Every member of the Indian squad, plus Gaughran, Shoemaker and followers, suddenly appeared in white T-shirts bearing the inscription, "Stanford U 1967 NCAA Swimming Champions." It really wasn't magic at all, but the contribution of Bill Lee, the Indians' number one aquatic buff, who had been so sure of the outcome that he had invested in the shirts. That's confidence and Lee, an advertising and equipment executive, grinned like a Cheshire cat as he admired his handiwork.

1985 NCAA Championship Team

After three straight years of knocking at the door at the NCAA Men's Swimming & Diving Championships, Stanford University, led by Olympians Pablo Morales, John Moffet and Jeff Kostoff, finally got over the hump and won its first NCAA Championship since 1967, the school's second of all time.

The Cardinal, who captured momentum early in the three-day competition and never relinquished it, easily outscored two-time defending NCAA champion Florida and host Texas in the most lopsided NAAs in eight years. Stanford scored 403.5 points, followed by Florida's 329, Texas (306), California (294) and USC (230.5). Stanford, which had finished third in 1984, fourth in 1983 and third again in 1982, took command from the first session and was clearly in control throughout the three days of competition at the Texas Swim Center on the campus of the University of Texas at Austin.

Stanford won an unprecedented eight events during the three-day championship with Olympic medalist Pablo Morales leading the way. Morales, a sophomore from Santa Clara, won three NCAA titles and was a member of Stanford's record-breaking 400 medley relay team. Morales got things started for Stanford on the first night, winning the 200 Individual Medley. He came back the next night to win the 100 butterfly and on the final day he won the 200 fly.

Besides Morales, Stanford got two individual titles from John Moffet, another member of the 1984 U.S. Olympic Team. Moffet, a junior from Newport Beach, won both his specialties, the 100 and 200 fly. Jeff Kostoff won the NCAA title in the 400 IM in an American and Stanford record-breaking time of 3:46.54 while freshman Sean Murphy, in perhaps the most surprising performance for Stanford, won the national title in the 200 backstroke. The Cardinal 400 medley relay team, as expected, won the NCAA crown to give Stanford eight victories in the 16 swimming events.

"This is the highlight of my coaching career," said Stanford head coach Skip Kenney, who began coaching at Stanford in 1979. "This is such a great feeling. I can't put it into words. The team effort, the team togetherness far exceeds any Olympic experience I've ever had. We swam exceptionally well in every phase and in every session. Nobody gave it to us. We had a lot of great individual efforts and our depth was better than I expected. I didn't think 13 swimmers would be enough to win it, but then again I didn't think Sean Murphy would win the 200 back and Anthony Mosse would qualify in two finals. Our freshmen did a super job. But the key was that we had the momentum from the start and we carried it through from session to session. We never let it go. This is the best team I've ever had at Stanford."

Swimming World magazine named Pablo Morales the 1984 American Male Swimmer of the Year earlier in the year and after Morales' performance at the '85 NAAs, that claim couldn't be more accurate. The sophomore from Santa Clara stole the show during the three days of competition, winning three individual titles, being a member of Stanford's record-breaking 400-yard medley relay team, breaking three American and NCAA records and setting four Stanford records in the process. Morales was the high-point swimmer in the tournament, accounting for 77.5 points by himself – which would have placed him 14th in the nation if he alone were a team.

John Moffet made a stylish comeback for Stanford. After a heart-breaking Olympic experience the prior summer in Los Angeles, Moffet proved once again that he is one of the world's finest breaststrokers. Moffet, who pulled a muscle

The junior from Newport Beach broke two Stanford school records, winning the 100 breast in 53.62 and the 200 breast in 1:55.96. He also took sixth in the 200 IM (1:48.05) and was a member of the 400 medley relay team.

1986 NCAA Championship Team

Led by Olympians Pablo Morales, Anthony Mosse, John Moffet and Jeff Kostoff, the Stanford men's swimming and diving team turned what was supposed to be a very close NCAA Championships into another lopsided Cardinal victory, giving Stanford its second consecutive men's swimming & diving championship and the school's 25th NCAA team title.

The Cardinal took home six individual titles and one relay title to easily out-score runner-up California by 69 points. With Morales, Moffet, Kostoff and Sean Murphy all winning NCAA championships, the Cardinal took the lead after the first day and never relinquished it.

"Winning the NAAs this year is more gratifying than it was last year," Cardinal head coach Skip Kenney said. Kenney was named NCAA Coach of the Year for the second straight year and the third time in the last five seasons. "Last year we got the monkey off our backs and finally won. It was very, very sweet but more of a relief. This year, it was a five-team battle and there was a lot of pressure to not make mistakes. Our guys really rose to the challenge of the other four teams. They knew they had to be on to win it."

Three-time NCAA 200 Back Champion Sean Murphy.

Following Stanford's 404 points were Cal (335), Texas (325.5), Florida (321), UCLA (288), SMU (169), USC (160), Alabama (136), Arizona State (120) and Arizona (105) to round out the top 10.

Morales, a junior from Santa Clara, was once again the catalyst of the Cardinal squad. All the former Olympian did was win three NCAA titles, swim the third leg of the team's NCAA-winning 400 medley relay team and swim on the team's 400 and 800 free relay teams. Morales, who won two individual titles as a freshman in '84 and three as a sophomore in '85, earned eight individual NCAA titles through '86, tying him with former Indiana star and two-time Olympian Mark Spitz.

Morales won the 100 fly in 46.37, the third straight year he won that event. He set a new American, NCAA and meet record in racing to a 46.26 in the morning prelims. Morales also won the 200 fly in 1:43.05 and the 200 IM in 1:45.43.

Kostoff's performance was nothing new to those in swimming circles. The junior from Upland set an American record for the fourth consecutive year in winning the 1650 freestyle in 14:37.87, lowering his own American record of 14:38.22. He also placed third in the 500 free (4:18.03) and fourth in the 400 IM (1:45.43).

After being upset in the 100 breaststroke, senior Moffet came back to win his fifth NCAA title. Moffet won the 200 breast for the third straight season in 1:56.91. He came in second in the 100 breast in 53.90 and 13th in the 200 IM in 1:49.50.

Dave Lundberg, Morales, Murphy and Moffet helped lead Stanford's 400 medley relay team to the NCAA title in 3:12.47. Murphy took home the NCAA championship in the 200 back for the second straight season, winning in a time of 1:45.90. The sophomore from Toronto also placed fourth in the 100 back in 49.36.

Stanford also had plenty of depth to go along with its NCAA champions. Lundberg, Mosse, David Loudon and freshmen John Hodge and Jay Mortenson provided the Cardinal with the kind of depth needed to win the national championship.

Mosse, who competed in the meet despite two torn ligaments in his right ankle, finished second in the 200 fly (1:43.96) and fifth in the 100 fly (47.86). Lundberg had two top-eight finishes, taking sixth in the 200 breast (2:00.52) and eighth in the 100 breast (55.18). Mortenson gave the Cardinal a big lift by placing fourth in the 100 fly (47.71) while Hodge also produced some much-needed points by taking sixth in the 200 free (1:37.23) and 16th in the 100 free (44.83).

Another facet of Stanford's talent-laden squad was its diving contingent of Thor Johnson and Tom Rothenbucher. The Cardinal duo combined to score points in both one- and three-meter diving. Johnson, who placed seventh in the one-meter at last year's NAAs, took sixth in the one-meter and 10th in the three-meter at this year's meet.

Rothenbucher competed at the 1984 NAAs, where he placed 14th in the three-meter, but did not make the NAAs a year ago. This time around, the senior from Pound Ridge, New York took seventh in the one-meter and 14th in the three-meter.

1987 NCAA Championship Team

Seniors Pablo Morales and Jeff Kostoff combined to win five individual NCAA titles and the Stanford University men's swimming and diving team did something no Stanford team had ever done in any sport – won three NCAA Championships in a row.

Behind its two leaders, the Cardinal, for the third straight year, turned what was supposed to be a tight team battle into a rout by winning the national championship by 78 points – the largest margin of victory in NCAA men's swimming history. Stanford finished the three-day meet at the University of Texas Swim Center with 374 points, followed by USC (296), Florida (293), California (269) and Texas (257).

"The feeling of winning a national championship is so fantastic that I can't begin to describe my feelings," Cardinal head coach Skip Kenney said. Kenney was named the NCAA Coach of the Year for the third straight season and the fourth time in the last six years.

"Nobody can say we were lucky," Kenney explained. "We knew coming into the meet that if we swam well, we'd win it. This is one of the greatest teams in NCAA history."

Morales, who is arguably the greatest swimmer in NCAA history, placed himself in the record book by winning three more individual titles, giving him 11 in his storybook career. Morales' total breaks the NCAA record of 10 previously held by USC's John Naber.

Morales won his three events (100 fly, 200 fly and 200 individual medley), broke his own American record in the 200 fly (1:42.60), led his team to a first-place finish in the 400 medley relay and helped the Cardinal score well in the 400 free and 800 free relays.

In his career the Santa Clara native won 11 of the 12 individual events he swam. He won the 100 and 200 fly for four consecutive years and won the 200 IM the past three years. As a freshman, Morales placed fourth in the 200 IM.

"It doesn't get much better than this," Morales said of winning the national championship. "We have a lot of great athletes on this team and they proved what they can do. I couldn't have asked for anything more."

Jeff Kostoff, from Upland, California, enjoyed his finest NCAA Championship meet, winning both the 1650 free and the 400 IM and also placing fifth in the 500 free. He finished his career with five NCAA individual titles, the 1650 free in 1984, '86 and '87 and the 400 IM in '85 and '87.

Along with Morales and Kostoff, Stanford had the depth to not only win the title, but win it going away.

Anthony Mosse, Sean Murphy, Jay Mortenson and freshman John Witchel all scored well for the Cardinal. Mortenson, a sophomore from Madison, Wisconsin, gave notice that he is one of this country's most versatile and talented swimmers as he placed second in both the 100 back and the 100 fly and broke the American record in the 100 back swimming the leadoff leg of the 400 medley relay.

Mortenson's split of 47.94 to lead off the medley relay broke Tom Jager's American mark of 48.21. He came back later in the meet to score big points in the 100 back and 100 fly, finishing second to Morales in the 100 fly.

Mosse, for the third year in a row, was a finalist in both the 100 and 200 butterfly events, taking second to Morales in the 200 fly and third in the 100 fly, completing a 1-2-3 Stanford finish in that event.

Murphy, a junior from Toronto, had won the 200 back the past two seasons, but finished fourth in this meet. He still scored well for the Cardinal with an eighth-place finish in the 100 back.

The freshman class, led by John Witchel of New York, gave the Cardinal the depth needed to win the meet. Witchel was a finalist in all three of his events, placing sixth in the 500 and 1650 free and seventh in the 200 free. Byron Burson took ninth in the 100 fly and was a member of Stanford's 400 free relay team. Doug Lillydahl finished 10th in the 50 free and was also on the 400 free relay and Sam Schwartz helped the Cardinal win the 400 medley relay.

Jeff Kostoff won the 1650 free and the 400 IM titles in 1987.

1992 NCAA Championship Team

Stanford capped an impressive year in which it dominated men's collegiate swimming. In the process, it established scoring marks for both the Pac-10 and NCAA meets. Stanford swimmers set American records in the 100 and 200 backstroke as well as the 200 and 400 medley relay and the 200 free relay in 1992.

Stanford scored an NCAA-record 632 points to win its fifth NCAA men's swimming and diving title in Indianapolis, March 26-28. Stanford defeated runner-up Texas by a 276-point margin to secure its fourth title in the last eight years. The Cardinal finished the season with a 5-1 record and its 11th consecutive Pac-10 team title. For his efforts, head coach Skip Kenney was named NCAA Coach of the Year, the fifth such honor in the Cardinal mentor's 14-year tenure.

Stanford concluded its record-setting performance in Indianapolis in impressive fashion. Cardinal swimmers set seven American records, won four individual titles and set three relay marks. The meet also marked the first time ever that a team won all five relay races.

"I don't think anybody could expect to do this well. This is one of those dream-type of meets. Jeff Rouse is a perfect example of how focused we were coming into the meet. We had great preliminary swims, probably the best ever for Stanford. We really set ourselves up well for the finals. We were so unpredictable coming in, and we've been a very pleasant surprise," said Skip Kenney.

meet at Stanford. He won three individual championships: 100 back (46.12), 200 back (1:40.64) and 200 IM (1:45.81) with the backstroke events won in American-record times. In addition, he was part of record-setting 200 and 400 medley relay teams as well as anchoring the winning 400 free relay squad. For his efforts, Rouse was named the 1992 NCAA Swimmer of the Year.

Stanford's 200 points on day one were the most ever to open the meet, the previous high being 165. The Cardinal won four of the five events on the opening day. On the final two days, Stanford had at least one finalist in each event. Two freshmen, Ray Carey and Dan Kanner, both turned in impressive top-eight finishes. Carey came in fourth in the 200 butterfly (1:45.30) and Kanner came in seventh in the 200 free (1:36.16).

- Stanford tallied the highest point total in NCAA history (632 points).
- Greatest margin of victory ever between first and second place.
- Only team in NCAA history to win all five relay events.

1993 NCAA Championship Team

Stanford men's swim team claimed its second consecutive NCAA crown as it capped an undefeated season in 1993. Stanford finished 8-0 and on the way to the NAAs, the Cardinal won its 12th consecutive Pac-10 title, leaving broken records in its wake.

The Cardinal again toppled all opponents at the Pac-10 Conference meet at the King County Aquatic Center at Federal Way, Washington, March 4-6. Along the way, Stanford swept all five relays, a feat never before accomplished in Pac-10 history.

Five Pac-10 meet records fell to Stanford swimmers as well. Trip Zedlitz won the 200 IM, breaking the meet record in 1:45.50. Joe Hudepohl outdisted the Cardinal came away with three individual titles and three relay titles. Tyler Mayfield broke the Pac-10 Conference record in the 100 breaststroke, and also swam away with the NCAA title (53.07). Derek Weatherford took the crown in the 100 back and Ray Carey struck gold in the 200 fly.

Hudepohl, Zedlitz, Maurer and Weatherford, otherwise known as the 400 free relay team, broke Stanford's school record as they claimed the title. The 200 free relay team (Schell, Maurer, Mayfield, Hudepohl) won in a time of 1:17.78 and the 400 medley relay team (Weatherford, Mayfield, Zedlitz and Hudepohl) pulled in Stanford's sixth title.

Other Stanford school records fell at the NAAs as Bill Schell placed third in the 50 free with a time of 19.49. Hudepohl knocked off the 100 free record with his 43.33 as the lead-off leg of the NCAA-winning 400 free relay. Zedlitz placed second in the 200 individual medley and knocked the Cardinal record down to 1:45.36.

Stanford's efforts resulted in 520.5 points as the Cardinal pushed aside Michigan (396) and Texas (326) to claim the NCAA crown.

Other highlights for the 1992-93 team included head coach Skip Kenney's United States' swim team

Cardinal relay teams broke the other two Pac-10 meet records. The 800 free relay team, consisting of Eddie Parenti, Dan Kanner, Eric Diehl and Hudepohl, took first and slashed the meet record to 6:24.98. The 400 free relay team, made up of Bill Schell, Erik Maurer, Derek Weatherford and Hudepohl, dropped that record to 2:54.10 with a first-place finish.

Stanford outdistanced the field by 245 points, earning a total of 865, to win the Pac-10 title. UCLA and Arizona State were second and third respectively.

winning the Pan Pacific Championships in Kobe, Japan. Stanford was represented at the meet by seven Cardinal swimmers in addition to coach Kenney. Stanford also won the men's team title this summer at the US Swimming National Championships in Austin, Texas.

In addition, three of Stanford's backstrokers ranked in the top four in the world. Jeff Rouse (1992 graduate) ranked first while Brian Retterer and Weatherford were third and fourth respectively.

Stanford brought home five individual titles, three relay titles, five silver medals (including relays) and amassed 566.5 points to second-place Texas' 445. But winning wasn't everything as the Cardinal men's swim team left broken records in the water of the University of Minnesota Aquatic Center in Minneapolis, Minnesota, March 24-26.

Stanford slashed two American, US Open, and NCAA records, three Pac-10 records and six Stanford school records en route to its third NCAA title in as many years. On top of that, the Stanford class of 1994 established itself as the best senior class of swimmers in the history of the sport.

"It wasn't pretty. It wasn't easy. But it was better than anyone else," Stanford head coach Skip Kenney said.

The 1994 champions included Brian Retterer in the 50 free and 100 back, Derek Weatherford in the 200 back and Kurt Grote in the 200 breast. Senior Tyler Mayfield became a two-time champion in the 100 breast. The Cardinal won the 200 free relay (Bill Schell, Retterer, Mayfield and Joe Hudepohl), the 200 medley relay (Weatherford, Schell, Mayfield and Retterer) and the 400 medley relay (Weatherford, Ray Carey, Mayfield and Retterer). It was Carey's first NCAA title as a participant on a relay.

Tyler Mayfield won one individual and three relay NCAA titles.

Stanford opened the NCAA meet with an American, NCAA, US Open, Pac-10 and Stanford record in the 200 free relay, first in the trials (1:17.10) and again in the finals (1:16.93). Schell swam the leadoff leg (19.93) with Retterer (18.67) and Mayfield (19.32) swimming two and three and Hudepohl finishing it off (19.01). Retterer's split was the fastest in the history of the 200 free relay. That same night Retterer led off the 400 medley relay in the trials and smashed every record, including the American, in the 100 back with a time of 45.74. Former teammate Jeff Rouse held those records in the 100 back (46.12) since 1992.

"The first day our team struggled. Brian Retterer literally carried our team. It was one of the greatest one-day performances I've ever seen," Kenney said.

The 400 free relay (Hudepohl, Retterer, Schell and Weatherford) swam an American-record breaking time of 2:51.41 but finished second to arch rival Texas, the owner of the previous record (2:52.01). The 400 free relay broke the Pac-10 conference record as well as the Stanford school record by nearly two seconds.

Retterer broke the school record in the 50 free twice, first in the open 50 (19.45) and then as the leadoff leg of the 200 free relay in the trials (19.34). Hudepohl smashed his own school record in the 100 free racing to a time of 42.84 in the trials. The 800 free relay team (Scott Gagner, Dan Kanner, Hudepohl and Weatherford) shattered the old school record (6:25.10) with a time of 6:22.96.

"I can't get over the 800 and 400 free relays," Kenney said. "We just crushed our school records."

Retterer, who redshirted the '92-'93 season due to a shoulder injury, added to his list of achievements when he scored 55 points for the Cardinal, the second most in school history behind Pablo Morales (60) and Rouse (60). Retterer captured two firsts and a fourth individually as well as taking part in four of the five relays.

Stanford's strength ran deep as Hudepohl finished second in both the 100 and 200 freestyles as well as placing third in the 50 free. Carey earned a silver in the 200 fly while senior Eddie Parenti finished third. The Cardinal finished 1-2-5 in the 100 back (Retterer, Weatherford and senior Trip Zedlitz) and 1-3-4 in the 100 breast (Mayfield, senior J.J. Freitag and Grote).

"On the second day, our 100 back and 100 breast just broke it open. That was the turning point in the meet right there. That just blew everyone else right out of the pool. We scored 102 points right there," Kenney said.

The best performance by a Stanford freshman was turned in by Kevin Radvany who placed sixth in the 1650 free.

And finally, the Cardinal class of 1994 became the best senior class in the history of men's swimming as they scored 206 points at the NAAs. The previous best class was USC's class of '77 which scored 186 points as seniors (converted from 1977 point system to 1994 point system). The point totals do not include relays.

"Our senior class surpassed the 1977 USC class as the best senior class in NCAA history. They have left so much history at Stanford," Kenney said. "It's a great group of young men."

Kenney brought home his third consecutive NCAA title and his sixth since 1985. Since 1980 Kenney has produced 45 individual champions. He completed his second year in a row undefeated in dual meets with a career winning pct. of .825.

Stanford's NCAA title was prefaced with its 13th-consecutive Pac-10 title and an undefeated dual-meet season. At the Pac-10 Championships, the Cardinal scored a meet-record 962 points. The previous meet record was 935.5 (Stanford, 1989).

1998 NCAA Championship Team

Tom Wilkins captured one relay and three individual NCAA titles at the 1998 NCAA Championship meet.

Stanford University ran away from the rest of the field to easily capture the 1998 NCAA Men's Swimming & Diving Championships at Auburn University, marking the Cardinal's fourth national title of the decade and seventh in the last 14 years.

The Cardinal finished with 599 points at NAAs, the second most in school history (632 in 1991-92), to outdistance defending champion and host Auburn's 394.5. Stanford recorded an NCAA Championship first by having at least one top-eight finalist in all 18 swimming events. In all, the Cardinal won eight of a possible 18 events, and recorded an amazing 16 top three finishes.

"This team swam unbelievably," said the Cardinal's Tate Blahnik, the winner of the 200-yard backstroke. "There were no weaknesses in any event. It was hard to believe how focused we were and how well we swam the whole week."

Senior Tom Wilkens ended his Stanford career in style by winning all three of his individual events. Wilkens defended his national title in the 400 yard Individual Medley (3:43.96), and also captured the 200 yard breaststroke (1:55.02) and 200 yard Individual Medley (1:45.16). His win in the 200 yard breaststroke officially clinched the national title.

Matthew Pierce captured the 200 butterfly title.

If that wasn't enough, Wilkens shattered his own school record in the 400 Individual Medley (3:45.59) and broke Trip Zedlitz' Cardinal mark of 1:45.36 (1993) in the 200 Individual Medley. He also tied World Champion Kurt Grote's school record in the 200 breaststroke (1:55.02). Wilkens finished his Stanford career with 182.5 NCAA points, which ranks him fourth in school history behind only Pablo Morales (235), Jeff Kostoff (193) and Derek Weatherford (184).

"We set goals to do what we've done, and we came in here thinking we could pull it off," Wilkens said. "but when you do it – when it actually happens – it's really exciting."

Wilkens was joined in the winners circle by both Matthew Pierce and Blahnik. Pierce won the 200 yard butterfly in 1:43.68 (teammate Steven Brown was second in 1:44.00), and in the process turned in the second best time in school history in the event behind only Pablo Morales (1:42.60).

Blahnik won the 200 back in 1:41.21 to bring home the Cardinal's fourth national title in that event in the 1990's (Jeff Rouse, 1992; Derek Weatherford, 1994; Brian Retterer, 1995).

The Cardinal won three of five relays, including an American, NCAA and U.S. Open record setting performance (1:16.76) in the 200 yard free relay by Anthony Robinson, Sabir Muhammad, Justin Ewers and Scott Claypool. Stanford also touched the wall first in both the 400 yard free relay (Dod Wales, Muhammad, Glenn Counts, Claypool; 2:51.37) and the 400 yard medley relay (Blahnik, Wilkens, Muhammad, Wales; 3:07.73).

The Cardinal's dominant postseason performance helped Cardinal coach Skip Kenney further lengthen his list of accomplishments on The Farm. Kenney, who has led Stanford to seven NCAA titles and 18 top five finishes in his 20 seasons, was named both the 1997-98 NCAA and Pac-10 Coach of the Year. The NCAA honor was his first since 1992 and sixth overall, while the Pac-10 award was his 12th and fourth in the last five seasons.

Kenney's Pac-10 dominance also continued as the Cardinal won its 17th straight conference title dating back to 1982. Stanford finished with 962.5 points, to easily outdistance second place USC's 700.5 in the three-day meet in Long Beach. The 17 straight conference titles is a Pac-10 record in any sport.

Skip Kenney – All-Time Leading Pac-10 Coach

The Stanford men's swimming and diving team became the most dominant program in Pacific-10 history by winning a 14th consecutive conference championship in 1995. Led by coaches Skip Kenney, Ted Knapp and Rick Schavone, Stanford broke the conference record for consecutive titles, established by UCLA men's basketball under John Wooden. The Cardinal has now run its streak to 23 consecutive Pac-10 titles, and has gone on to finish in the top four at NAAs in every one of those years as well.

Head coach Skip Kenney's teams, shown here with legendary UCLA basketball coach John Wooden, have captured an unprecedented 23 consecutive Pacific-10 titles; more than any other coach in any sport in the history of the conference.
