

Buck/Cardinal Club: Stanford Scholarship Funding

In June of 1934, the "Tiny Buck of the Month Club" was formed to raise the necessary funds from Stanford alumni and friends to pay the tuition costs for capable, worthy and needy student-athletes. As the Club's name implied, membership dues were one dollar per month and the word "tiny" was added to emphasize the modest amount and to honor head football coach, Claude "Tiny" Thornhill. The Club later shortened its name to the "Stanford Buck Club" and revised its initial membership dues requirement.

Until the mid-1970's, there were no athletic scholarships for women, nor was there any fundraising organization devoted to this purpose. To accomplish the task of raising scholarship funds for women, the Cardinal Club was formed in 1977-78.

Under the guidance of the Buck and Cardinal Club leadership, a merged Buck/Cardinal Club was formed in 1987 to raise funds for both men's and women's athletic scholarships. The new volunteer organization was built on the fine Buck and Cardinal Club traditions that served both organizations well.

In 2007, the Stanford Athletic Department provided full operating budgets to all 35 varsity sports. These budgets include all of the components necessary for our programs to compete at the Division I level. Because of this, none of our varsity sports will be required to fundraise for their basic operating budgets effective fiscal year 2008 (September 1, 2007).

These new budgets will be funded in large part by a more robust Buck/Cardinal Club, enabling our head coaches and their staffs to focus their time and energy on coaching and recruiting instead of fundraising for basic operating budgets. Our donors will receive Buck/Cardinal Club benefits commensurate with their generosity.

Under the new Stanford Athletics annual giving program, the Buck/Cardinal Club will not only include its great scholarship tradition, but also assist the department's coaches and staff in providing the resources needed to compete at the highest level of NCAA Division I athletics.

Instead of receiving solicitations from individual sports, donors and friends of Stanford Athletics will now receive a single solicitation from the Buck/Cardinal Club. By giving a gift to the Buck/Cardinal Club, the donor is giving both their favorite sport, and all of Stanford's varsity sports, the budget resources they need. Donors will also have the opportunity to let us know which sports are their favorites at the time of the donation, and sports will keep in touch with donors who specify interest in that specific program.

What To Watch For In 2009-10

Doubles Dominance

Stanford boasts the nation's top-ranked doubles team in sophomores Bradley Klahn and Ryan Thacher. After finishing last season 11-4 overall and 7-4 in duals for a No. 28 final ranking, the Cardinal's top tandem has been almost unbeatable in 2009-10. Klahn and Thacher enter the dual match season at 13-2 overall, and have already captured tournament titles at the ITA Northwest Regional Championships and ITA National Indoor Championships. Klahn and Thacher pieced together a 10-match winning streak during the fall and are a serious threat to win the NCAA Doubles crown.

Pieces In Place

This year's club returns essentially its entire starting lineup from 2009, with the exception of Matt Bruch and Blake Muller. The extra year of experience for Stanford's top four players should be of great value. Junior Alex Clayton, a two-time All-American, played primarily at the No. 1 spot last year and will remain at that position. Sophomore Bradley Klahn led Stanford in overall wins (35) and dual wins (20) last season and will play No. 2. Sophomore Ryan Thacher, 20-9 last year, holds down the No. 3 spot while senior Richard Wire, 26-10 last season, is a top tier performer playing at No. 4.

Newcomers In The Lineup

With the top four slots basically accounted for, head coach John Whitlinger might elect to play one of his promising freshmen at the Nos. 5 and 6 positions and bring them along at a slower pace. The likely candidates are rookies Matt Kandath, Walker Kehrer and Denis Lin. Kandath posted a 6-4 mark during the fall, reaching the round of 16 at the ITA Northwest Regional Championships. Kehrer also finished 6-4 in the preseason while Lin, who registered a runner-up finish at the Battle of Bay Classic, closed out the fall with an 8-4 record.

Pac-10 Strong Again

The Pac-10 will once again shape up to be one of the country's top conferences. USC opened the spring season ranked No. 1, with UCLA checking in at No. 4 and Stanford holding down the No. 9 position. Arizona (No. 24) and Washington (No. 26) are also in the mix, so Whitlinger realizes there will be no easy matches in league play this year. There are only six conference matches that count toward the standings, and Stanford will be facing USC, UCLA and California on the road when it counts.

Next Step In The Journey

It's been 10 years since Stanford last captured an NCAA championship, blanking VCU 4-0 back in 2000. But the Cardinal has made definite progress since a losing season in 2007, qualifying for the postseason in 2008 before reaching the Sweet 16 last year for the first time since 2006. Stanford was defeated 4-2 by USC last year in that round of 16 match, and with basically its entire roster intact, it's not a reach to think the Cardinal can take the next step in 2010.

John Whitlinger

Head Coach
Stanford (1974)
6th Season

1974 NCAA Singles & Doubles Champion
1999 Collegiate Tennis Hall of Fame
2006 Pac-10 Coach of the Year

One of the nation's top collegiate head coaches, John Whitlinger enters his sixth season at the helm of the Stanford men's tennis program.

Since taking over the head coaching duties in 2005 from legendary skipper Dick Gould, Whitlinger has led Stanford to a 73-46 record and four NCAA Tournament appearances while four different players have earned All-America accolades during his tenure.

However, Whitlinger's contributions to the Cardinal men's tennis program extend back more than 35 years, as enjoying success as an associate head coach and student-athlete.

For 18 seasons from 1987-2004, Whitlinger served as the program's associate head coach under Gould and helped guide Stanford to a 416-64 record while claiming nine NCAA championships.

After a one-year hiatus from postseason play, Whitlinger has directed Stanford to back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances. Following a second round showing two years ago, the Cardinal took the next step in 2009 and reached the round of 16 for the first time since 2006. Last year's Stanford squad finished 20-6 overall and midway through the season earned the program's first No. 1 national ranking since 2002. Individually, Alex Clayton earned his second All-America honor while Bradley Klahn was named ITA National Rookie of the Year while becoming just the fourth player in school history to claim both the Pac-10 singles and doubles titles.

In 2006, Stanford closed out the year 18-4 overall and advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament. The Cardinal went 6-1 to claim a share of the Pac-10 title and Whitlinger was honored as the Pac-10 Coach of the Year.

Whitlinger guided Stanford to a 14-11 record during his first season at the helm in 2005, as the Cardinal reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

One of the nation's top teaching professionals, Whitlinger was awarded the inaugural ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year in 1997. He was inducted into the ITA Collegiate Hall of Fame in 1999 and the Fox River Valley (Wisconsin) Tennis Hall of Fame in 1998. Whitlinger is also a member of Stanford's Athletic Hall of Fame.

A two-time All-American (1974, 1975) at Stanford, Whitlinger was instrumental in leading Stanford to its first two NCAA championships in 1973 and 1974. The 1974 campaign proved to be Whitlinger's most successful, directing Stanford to an NCAA team title while becoming only the fourth player in program history to capture the NCAA singles and doubles titles in the same season.

After his collegiate career, Whitlinger was an international touring professional for six years and ranked among the top-50 in the world in singles and top-40 in doubles. He also played for the Indiana Loves of the World Team Tennis League. Chairs in Stanford Tennis' "Rows of Champions" commemorate a player's participation in the Stanford tennis program. These chairs are located in the central featured section of the Stanford Tennis Stadium. Proceeds from the subscription of these $5,000 chairs help to defray capital building costs of the Stanford tennis program. Each chair is "personalized" with up to a five line inscription. These "Rows of Champions" provide almost a museum of Stanford Tennis history. Over 140 program participants honored thus far and are listed by the decade of their graduating class.

In addition, Lin Murray, John Doeg and Ted Schroeder and John McEnroe each captured the U.S. National Championships.

Stanford's men's and women's teams have won 33 team titles – 17 men's and 16 women's.

Men Dominate Collegiate Tennis with 17 Championships

Stanford's men claimed NCAA team titles in 1973-74, '77-78, '80-81, '83, '86, '88-90, '92, '95-98 and 2000 to dominate collegiate tennis in that time period. A remarkable note is that any player who competed for Stanford during any four-year period from 1969-2003 has at least one NCAA Championship ring to his credit. Since the NCAA initiated its team championship playoff in 1977, Stanford has won 15 titles.

S MEN'S TENNIS PROFESSIONALS

Bob and Mike Bryan are the top ranked doubles team on the professional tour, most recently winning the 2008 U.S. Open (above) and the 2009 Australian Open.

Scott Davis was ranked in the top 15 in both singles and doubles, capturing the Australian Open doubles title in 1991.
